Brooklands Museum with its extensive aircraft (including CONCORDE), motor car and motor bike exhibits is fortunate in having one of the largest volunteer workforces of any museum in the country.

Volunteers at Brooklands fulfil many roles such as stewarding, working on restoration and project teams, working with school and adult groups, helping with administration and site maintenance and marshalling at Museum events.

CONCORDE is included in the large collection of aircraft, motor cars and bikes in the Brooklands museum

The Brooklands race track, opened in 1907, was the world's first purpose-built motor racing circuit. Restoration of the Finishing Straight is part of a restoration scheme commenced in 2015
